Tax return forms will be sent out in late January to those who filed in the previous year. If you did not receive one or need a tax return form, please contact the Citizen's Tax Section.

※Deadline for filing a return tax may be earlier or later due to the day of the week.

Long-Term Care Insurance

Contact: Nursing Care Support Section ☎ 04-7150-6531

With the rapid aging of society and the shift to nuclear families, the number of people requiring nursing care is increasing every year, and the issue of nursing care has become a major cause of anxiety in old age. However, there are limits to what families alone can do to take care of the elderly, so the long-term care insurance system was established in April 2000, with the aim of supporting long-term care throughout society by having everyone pay insurance premiums together. The long-term care insurance system has become firmly established as a system that supports an aging society. The infrastructure for providing services is rapidly developed and the number of service users are increasing steadily.

■ Insured by Long-term Care Insurance

○Type 1 insured person

Persons who are 65 years of age or older. When they become in need of nursing care, they are eligible to receive the necessary nursing care (nursing care prevention) services upon certification of the need for nursing care (support).

○Type 2 insured person

You must be between 40 and 64 years of age to be covered by medical insurance. If you are recognized as needing long-term care due to a specific disease defined by law, such as cerebrovascular disease, you are eligible to receive long-term care insurance services.

■ Long-term Care Insurance Premiums

○Type 1 insured person

In principle, premiums for those 65 years of age or older are deducted from their pensions. Those whose pension is less than 180,000 yen per year or who turned 65 in the middle of the fiscal year should bring the payment slip sent by the city to the designated financial institution and pay the premium.

○Type 2 insured person

Premiums for those aged 40 to 64 are paid to the Social Insurance Medical Fee Payment Fund together with the premiums for their medical insurance.

■ Procedures for Using the Service

If you think you need nursing care, please submit the application form (or download from the city website) distributed at the City Hall or Comprehensive Counselling Room for the Elderly (Koreisha Nandemo Soudan-shitsu) (Comprehensive Regional Support Center) or downloaded from the city website. Together with your long-term care insurance card (for those insured under type 2, the MyNa Portal screen, a notification of eligibility information, a certificate of eligibility or other documents confirming medical insurance coverage) to the city office to obtain certification that you need nursing care (or support). The city will conduct an on-site survey of those who have applied.

The city conducts an on-site interview and obtains a written opinion from the applicant's family doctor. The city then submits the results to the Nursing Care Certification Examination Board, which is composed of medical, health, and welfare experts. The board examine and determine whether the applicant needs nursing care or support. Once if Long-term care (Lv.1-5) or support Required Help (Lv.1, 2) is certified, you will be able to receive the services in consultation with a nursing care support specialist (care manager) or Koreisha Nandemo Sodanshitsu (Comprehensive Regional Support Center).
